

Welcome to a place of healing.

Western medicine has accomplished many great things, but in recent generations it has failed to treat chronic illness and pain for many people. Instead of treating illness, often we are told to treat the symptoms instead of the root cause. Wu's Unique Therapy takes an Eastern approach to healing: heal the root and you will heal the symptom.

Wu's Unique Therapy works best for those suffering from chronic illness or pain. Using a combination of herbal remedies, intensive hands-on treatment, and Qi Gong, Wu's Unique Therapy offers effective holistic remedies that actually work.

Wu's Unique Therapy

A method for true health and healing.

What to Expect At Your Unique Therapy Visit

Health on the inside: Natural healing with Chinese herbs.

Tim Wu is third generation Chinese healer that uses herbs at the core of his therapies to elevate the effects of the Qi Gong (energy) healing he does. Wu creates various combinations of powdered herbs, customized to your personal health issues and 'qi' (energy). Wu will prepare a daily dose for you and provide you with instructions for preparing a tea-like solution of the herbs. While not as tasty as your usual tea, this powerful blend of potent ingredients will help to heal you from the inside-out.

Health on the outside: Qi Gong and Intensive Physical Manipulation Therapy.

Using a special blend of powerful herbs on the skin, Tim may perform either a traditional massage; or, if deeper work is needed, he may perform an intensive style of physical manipulation therapy on the sore or damaged areas of your body. The method feels like a stinging tap; this technique breaks up inflammation, allowing your circulation system to flow more regularly. Wu will complete the treatment with a modernized form of 'cupping', which will help the circulation further.

Wu's knowledge of the ancient Chinese practice of Qi Gong makes this treatment highly effective.

Patients sometimes find the intensive manipulation to be painful at first, but soon learn that the short-term discomfort is worth the long-term gain. As the inflammation is dispersed it may show on the skin surface, so you may experience some bruise-like colouring in the areas of focus; this is normal and will heal.

A Unique experience: your first visit.

On your first visit, Tim Wu will ask you to fill out a questionnaire, then speak with him about your symptoms. He will read your 'qi' (energy), then either prescribe a series of herbs, or perform an intensive hands-on treatment. Sometimes he suggests both. Tim works quietly so that he may maintain his concentration on your body as it changes and responds to his treatment, but feel free to ask questions or let him know if you are experiencing any great discomfort.
